

Request for Proposal (RFP)

For: The Disability Innovation Challenges – Developing Inclusive and Creative Economy Programme – Scale of investment 15kGBP

Date: 25.8.2019

1 Overview of the British Council

1.1 The British Council is the UK's international organisation for cultural relations and educational opportunities. We create friendly knowledge and understanding between the people of the UK and other countries. We do this by making a positive contribution to the UK and the countries we work with – changing lives by creating opportunities, building connections and engendering trust.

1.2 We work with over 100 countries across the world in the fields of arts and culture, English language, education and civil society. Each year we reach over 20 million people face-to-face and more than 500 million people online, via broadcasts and publications. Founded in 1934, we are a UK charity governed by Royal Charter and a UK public body

1.3 The British Council employs over 10,500 staff worldwide. It has its headquarters in the UK, with offices in London, Manchester, Belfast, Cardiff and Edinburgh. Further information can be viewed at www.britishcouncil.org.

2 Introduction and Background to the Project / Programme

2.1 The British Council launched Developing Inclusive and Creative Economies (DICE) in March 2018, a commitment to addressing two critical and complex issues:

- rising unemployment, underemployment and poor-quality employment prospects for young people in emerging economies;
- the lack of inclusive economic development in emerging economies which can translate into instability, political disaffection and reduced economic growth.

DICE responds to the need for immediate action to tackle poverty and inequality globally as invoked in The International Development Act (2002), The International Development Act (Gender Equality) (2014), The Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness, The Busan Declaration, The UK Aid Strategy, and the World Economic Forum Inclusive Growth and Development Report (2017). In addition, DICE aims to support progress on five of the UN's 17 Sustainable Development Goals: SDG1 (No Poverty), SDG5 (Gender and Inclusion), SDG 8 (Youth Employment), SDG 10 (Reduced Inequalities), and SDG17 (Global Partnerships).

The DICE 'hypothesis' is that creative and social enterprises are key to addressing these entrenched global challenges, building upon growing evidence of their contribution to inclusive economic growth<sup>1</sup>. The UK's social enterprise sector employs 70,000 people and contributes £24bn to the UK economy, whilst the wider creative industries sector contributes £76.9bn and creates 1.8 million jobs. There is also growing evidence of the contribution they make to inclusive growth, reducing inequality and gender inclusion. For example, the most recent State of Social Enterprise Survey in the UK (2017)<sup>2</sup> highlighted that 28% of social enterprises in the UK are situated in the most deprived communities in the UK, 78% pay the national living wage and 41% of social enterprise leaders are women. Similarly, the creative industries are contributing significantly to identifying creative solutions to the challenges faced by communities across the UK.

A UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation) and UNDP (United Nations Development Programme) report found that "The creative economy has become a powerful transformative force in the world today. Its potential for development is vast and waiting to be unlocked<sup>3</sup>." Similarly, recent trends in the social economy, particularly the increased support that has been deployed to supporting social enterprises as well as innovations in social finance have focused attention on the role that these new development actors can also play in contributing to a more inclusive economy and addressing the SDGs.

Thus, the British Council has identified the UK's potential to contribute to progress on these issues by stimulating and strengthening the social and creative enterprise ecosystem in five emerging economies – Brazil, Egypt, Indonesia, Pakistan and South Africa – in partnership with the UK. Working purposefully and collaboratively across silos, systems, sectors and borders, DICE is delivering global and in-country initiatives at three levels of the economy – systemic, institutional and individual – in order specifically to empower women and girls, foster youth employment and support people with disabilities and other marginalised groups.

<sup>1</sup> The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) defines inclusive growth as "economic growth that creates opportunity for all segments of the population and distributes the dividends of increased prosperity, both in monetary and non-monetary terms, fairly across society."<sup>1</sup>The OECD have also highlighted that it is "imperative to find solutions that foster economic growth in a more inclusive manner, where the gaps between the rich and poor – not only in income, but also in other dimensions that matter for people are less pronounced and where opportunities are shared more equally."<sup>1</sup>

At the systemic level we are holding policy dialogues, undertaking research and building networks to foster a more supportive and equitable environment in which social and creative enterprises can thrive. Current research includes a multi-national study surveying the existing and nascent social and creative enterprise ecosystem in each of the DICE countries. We are also conducting research on the potential of social and creative enterprises to achieve inclusive growth; innovative solutions to the pressing issues that cities face; and the future of work.

At the institutional level we are strengthening intermediary organisations that support social and creative enterprises through brokered funding and collaborative projects. For the purposes of DICE, this can include non-governmental organisations that provide specialist training and shared services for social and creative enterprises, hubs (physical and virtual spaces), investment brokers, accelerators, incubators, networks, platforms between social/creative enterprises and corporations, and universities - all of which directly serve or support a multiple number of creative and social enterprises.

At the individual level we are offering business development and leadership training support to individual creative and social enterprises. In addition, we are offering training and mentoring to existing young creative and social entrepreneurs (18-30 year olds) to improve their knowledge and skills while also helping them to build networks and access support to innovate and/or grow their businesses.

Any tender responses not meeting mandatory requirements or constraints (if any) will be rejected in full at this point and will not be assessed or scored further. Tender responses not so rejected will be scored by an evaluation panel appointed by the British Council for all criteria other than Commercial using the following scoring model:

Points	Interpretation
10	Excellent – Overall the response demonstrates that the bidder meets all areas of the requirement and provides all of the areas evidence requested in the level of detail requested. This, therefore, is a detailed excellent response that meets all aspects of the requirement leaving no ambiguity as to whether the bidder can meet the requirement.
7	Good – Overall the response demonstrates that the bidder meets all areas of the requirement and provides all of the areas of evidence requested, but contains some trivial omissions in relation to the level of detail requested in terms of either the response or the evidence. This, therefore, is a good response that meets all aspects of the requirement with only a trivial level ambiguity due the bidders failure to provide all information at the level of detail requested.
5	Adequate – Overall the response demonstrates that the bidder meets all areas of the requirement, but not all of the areas of evidence requested have been provided. This, therefore, is an adequate response, but with some limited ambiguity as to whether the bidder can meet the requirement due to the bidder’s failure to provide all of the evidence requested.
3	Poor – The response does not demonstrate that the bidder meets the requirement in one or more areas. This, therefore, is a poor response with significant ambiguity as to whether the bidder can meet the requirement due to the failure by the bidder to show that it meets one or more areas of the requirement.
0	Unacceptable – The response is non-compliant with the requirements of the RFP and/or no response has been provided.
